

Everyday Dialogues: AI for Market Analysis [B1]

L'intelligenza artificiale è destinata a sostituire il lavoro degli umani? La risposta è no, ma può essere un valido aiuto.

James: The boss wants us to use artificial intelligence for market analysis. Any ideas? Anne: Well, we could use it to collect data like customer reviews. James: How would that work? Anne: We'd need an AI tool that can scan websites and social media. James: Yes, I can imagine a tool like that could do that very quickly. What about analysing that data? Anne: AI can do that, too. It's great at finding patterns, like what customers like or dislike. James: Wow, can it see the future, too? Anne: Actually, yes! AI can predict trends by studying past and current data. James: It sounds like human beings aren't needed anymore. Anne: Oh, but they are! AI helps a lot, but humans should always review the results. James: Why is that? Anne: Because AI is known to hallucinate! James: You're kidding! Language
